

Expand your indoor garden: Seed varieties to explore

With our innovative adjustable shelving design, the Terrace Pro offers flexible growing options for indoor gardeners.

In addition to our curated selection of seeds, growers can expand their production to include many other nutritious and delicious crops. As we continue to expand our range of curated selections, here is a list of varieties that have been successfully grown in our own Terrace Pro indoor garden.

If you opt to purchase your own seeds, consult the seed package for specific variety details. Ensure that your plant will fit within the growing tiers by checking the plant height indicator on the package. Aim for compact plants that don't exceed 45cm (18in) at full maturity. Additionally, consider the harvest timing. Each seed package indicates the days to maturity. Understanding the duration from planting to harvest helps you utilize your production space efficiently.

If you decide to source your own seeds, please contact us for growing recommendations.
